SOOTHING WASH CURES ECZEMA Oil of Wintergreen Compound Solves a Vexing Medical Problem.

One of the most vexing problems in all medicine appears at last to have been solved by the most simple of all remedies. Ordinary oil of wintergreen properly compounded with thymol, glycerine and other mild healing liquids, tones up the healthy skin while killing and ultimately removing the eczema germ.

This compound, known as D. D. D.
Prescription, has now so thoroughly proven its efficiency that druggists recommend it unhesitatingly.

The sheriff of Franklin Co., Frankfort, Ky., Mr. W. H. Graham, writes: "My twelve-year-old daughter had been suffering with an aggravated form of eczema for more than two years. We had her under the care of the best physicians here. Upon getting no relief, we were induced to try D. D. D. Prescription."

"She was entirely relieved. It has been more than one year since she ceased the use of the remedy, and no sign of the trouble has appeared."

We recommend D. D. D. Prescription to all sufferers from eczema. Hickert & Wells, Barre, Vt.

Up Before the Bar.
N. H. Brown, an attorney of Pittsfield, Vt., writes: "We have used Dr. King's New Life Pills for years, and find them such a good family medicine we wouldn't be without them." For chills, constipation, biliousness or sick headache they work wonders. 25c at Red Cross Phar-$330 For a $50 Gold Stag.

New York, April 13.—An octagonal $50 gold "stag" of the first variety of these coins issued, was sold to a well known collector here for $330. The golden piece was issued at San Francisco in 1857 by the firm of Moffat & Co., United States assay contractors.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it curable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by E. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 1 drop to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system.
They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circular and testimonials. Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio.

ABOUT THE STATE

With between 30 and 40 traveling men living in St. Johnsbury, that town's council of United Commercial Travelers has 96 members. Many reside in surrounding towns, several around Boston and one in Portland, Oregon.

The automobile season has begun in Brattleboro and the dealers say the prospects are better than for any previous season. Brattleboro claims to be the first place in the state to catch the craze and in consequence asserts that more cars are owned there in proportion to population than in any other town in Vermont.

An entry in the Bennington county case of Moses Sheldon, assignee, vs. Louise Clemens was filed in Montpelier Saturday with M. E. Smith, clerk, by Judge John M. Watson of the supreme court.
The decree of the lower court is affirmed and the cause remanded. A similar entry is ordered in the Windham county case of Ephraim M. Fuller and Viola Fuller vs. Early E. Knapp from Windham county.

Judge John M. Watson was in Waterbury Saturday morning to hear habeas corpus proceedings brought by Heman S.
Allen of Lowell, Vt., for the release of his wife, who has been confined in the state hospital for the insane at Waterbury since October, 1906. The husband claims that the proceedings under which his wife was committed were illegal, unconstitutional and void. The hearing was adjourned until May 4, when it will be continued in Montpelier before the full bench of the supreme court.

STUDY OLD VERMONTERS.
Twenty-five Residents of Johnson Are Over 80 Years of Age.

The good old town of Johnson on the banks of the winding Lamolle is proud of its village, of its schools and churches, and of the many sons and daughters who have gone out from its fields of usefulness and honor throughout this broad land. But of no one thing is it more proud, says the Morrieville News and Citizen, than of the sturdy citizens who have remained with us until they have reached that good old age of four score years and more.

The writer has recently taken pains to find out the place and date of birth of the 25 persons whom he believes to be the oldest persons in town. The following list gives the ages of each at the nearest birthday, with place and date of birth:

Leo Murray, 100, born in St. Mary's, P. Q., Dec. 8, 1808. He came to Vermont at the age of 18 and has lived here since.
Fletcher Jones, 91, born in South Reading, Vt., June 24, 1818.

Samuel Wilson, 91, born in Johnson, Vt., Aug. 6, 1818.

Harriet Holbrook, 87, born in Barre, Vt., March 5, 1822.

Lacy Ann Grow, 87, born in Johnson,
Vt., Aug. 28, 1822.

Jacob Barton, born in Monkton, Vt., Aug. 10, 1824.

Sarah L. Langdell, 84, born in Elmore, Vt., April 16, 1825.

Franklin J. Sinclair, 84, born in Essex, Vt., April 28, 1825.

Eliza Ann Balch, 84, born in Johnson, Vt., May 17, 1825.

Carroll MacLaren, 84, born in Hyde Park, Vt., July 3, 1825.

John Gregg, 83, born in Sterling, Vt., Oct. 2, 1826.

Eliza Jacobs, 83, born in St. Mary's, P. Q., Jan. 1, 1827.

Hannah K. Sherwin, 82, born in Barre, Vt., April 15, 1827.

Lois Shattuck, 82, born in Bakers-field, Vt., July 10, 1827.

Betsy Munn, 81, born in Mansfield, Vt., June 6, 1828.

Eliza Jones, 81, born in Georgia, Vt., Sept. 11, 1828.

Cyrus Parker, 80, born in Fairfax, Vt., Jan. 10, 1829.

Mrs. Richard Butler, 80, born in Johnson, Vt., Feb. 7, 1829.

Augusta H. Waterman, 80, born in Milton, Vt., March 15, 1829.

Alison Jacobs, 80, born in Broome, P. Q., May 10, 1829.

Mary Stone, 80, born in Bakersfield, Vt., Jan. 23, 1829.

Chauncey Lewis, 80, born in Woodstock, Vt., Aug. 10, 1829.

Joel Partlow, 80, born in Johnson,
Vt., Jan. 16, 1830.

Samuel Wilson, who is the father of the Hon. H. S. Wilson of Dallas, Oregon, and Orville H. Wilson of Johnson, bears the distinction of being the oldest living person born in Johnson, having been born 91 years ago on the farm on which he now lives and having spent his entire life in town.

Lacy Ann Grow is the oldest woman born in town, and has also always lived in Johnson.

When we consider that Johnson has a population of only 1,400, it would seem that its atmosphere and surroundings are at least conducive to longevity.

A PICTURE OF BURLINGTON.
Drawn by New York Sun in Reply to a Remonstrance.

A proud son of Vermont has lodged a remonstrance with The Sun for alluding to the fair city of Burlington as an "old fashioned, comfortable place." To convey its real charm both adjectives are, we affirm, requisite. "I don't like the way you say it," exclaims the remonstrant, and he bursts into a rhapsody upon the setting of Burlington, the beauty of its fine houses on the hill and the worth of its people, not omitting to laud the enterprise of its merchants.

No one who knows Burlington by frequent visits to it as to the shrine can fail to confess its fascination. We can say that the man who sits in Battery park on a summer evening and watches the sun go down behind the massed Adams.

THE REAL TEST
Of Herpicide is in Giving it a Thorough Trial.

There is only one test by which to judge of the efficiency of any article and that is by its ability to do that which it is intended to do. Many hair restorers may look nice and smell nice, but the point is—do they eradicate Dandruff and stop falling hair?
No, they do not, but Herpicide does, because it goes to the root of the evil and kills the germ that attacks the papilla from whence the hair gets its life.
Letters from prominent people everywhere are daily proving that Newbro's Herpicide stands the "test of use." It is a delightful dressing, clear, pure and free from oil or grease.
Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., rondecks, the vast mirror of the intervening lake reflecting the glory of the transfigured sky, will never forget the scene or willingly leave the spot. There are vantage heights in Burlington where the panorama of water and mountain the Green Hills from rugged Mansfield to sentinel Camel's Hump and down the line to pinnacled Killington on the left, and the noble ranges in New York on the right, hold one as in thrall. It may be matched, but hardly excelled. Such is the setting of Burlington, fittingly called the Queen City.

Old residents know the spell of the place. Many have built their houses where the eye can always rest upon some feature of its beautiful neighborhood. Its streets in choice residential parts are shaded by elms to make New Haven envious, and cottonwoods there are with an amazing sweep and spread such as no one ever saw before.

Of the great lawn, the confined plot of flowers the graceful elegance of vines peeping about old houses that seem to have grown from the happy soil, no one can take his fill. A paradise indeed, as our remonstrant says: inhabited, too, by people who are blessed in that they do not have to leave or will not go hence if they can help it.

Nevertheless Burlington has a sedate influence upon the visitor—remonstrant accepts "old fashioned" as complimentary. So is "moderate." The people are as old fashioned as the major houses, the older churches and public buildings. They are helpful to the stranger; they take him in only in the sense of hospitality. But their ways are the ways of peace, leisure and sel-fied habits. The merchant does not force his goods upon you, the hackman is considerate and polite, the car conductor neighborly and never in a hurry—how readily he puts the market basket aboard and squires the aged! The park where the old citizen sits the patriot American is the quiet, natural playgrounds for children and never crowded.
As the shades of evening fall it is one of the drowsy places of earth. The side streets have a Sunday quiet even in the full tide of summer, and a home atmosphere pervades every part of Burlington, charming the intelligent stranger to stay.

The life of the business streets is never restless or noisy—it flows along with measured enterprise, as if tomorrow would be time enough for some things that could wait. In the midst of toll energy seems subdued to health and content. To the man from New York, who works as if each day were his last and tomorrow eternity, it seems a placid, passive place. Surely it is old fashioned, and to say it is so is to praise it. The life of the city is the tribute of sincere and genuine appreciation. May it know no change, and be ever its happy self!—New York Sun.
